Planning Supervision

Safetymark Consultancy Services have been acting as Planning Supervisors since the introduction of the Construction (Design and Management) Regulations [CDM] in March 1995. Over this time we have earned a reputation for effective but pragmatic compliance with our statutory duties, addressing risk in a realistic way rather than following fixed procedures, ideas or rules.

We take our statutory duties seriously and believe that other members of the team should do likewise. We think of ourselves as an integral part of the design team. We believe that our role is one of facilitator, to ensure that risks that can be affected by design are identified, effectively assessed and where practicable controlled. We believe that recording and communication of information is a key part of our role and ensure that documentation such as the Pre Tender Health and Safety Plan and the Design Risk Register are conspicuous for their clarity. We do not believe that safety considerations should stifle good design, on the contrary we believe that they should benefit the built environment.

Safetymark Consultancy Services specialise in Healthcare and Education although we have experience in many other areas. Our client and project lists demonstrate our depth and breadth of experience.

Health and Safety Training

A comprehensive portfolio of health and safety training courses are delivered throughout the year; including:

- ✓ Health & Safety Awareness Training;
- ✓ Construction Industry Safety Training;
- ✓ Health and Safety Assessor Training;
- ✓ Health and Safety Management Training; and
- ✓ Risk Assessment for Designers.

We offer a number of training delivery options including Public Courses, On-site Training and Workshops.

We work closely with clients to establish their training needs, develop tailor made courses and programmes and advise on follow up and reinforcement in the workplace.

We have developed and delivered in house programmes for a range of corporate and private sector clients including SAS, ScumbergerSema, Lufthansa, Ernst & Young, and the University of Sussex.

Ensuring and measuring the effectiveness of training is key to our approach. To this end we provide follow up and mentoring programmes to staff to support the effective transfer of knowledge into the workplace.

One Stop Construction Safety

The Management of Health & Safety at Work Regulations requires all employers to have one or more people to assist them in undertaking the measures they need to take to comply with current health and safety law. Many clients and major contractors now require their contractors to have an appointed safety advisor as a condition of employment. Not all businesses however have a need for a full time safety professional and some companies who have appointed a safety advisor may from time to time need specialist advice from an experienced full time safety professional.

Safetymark Consultancy Services provides the One Stop Safety service to meet this need within the construction industry.

As a specialist construction health and safety company we understand the needs of companies working within the industry. Your personal health and safety advisor will have worked both within construction and as a safety professional and will be appropriately qualified.

Workplace and Environmental Noise Assessment

Noise Assessment is a complex issue and one that benefits from competent advice. Whether you want a workplace noise assessment in compliance with the New Control of Noise at Work Regulations 2005 or an environmental noise assessment in compliance with PPG24 planning requirements we can help.

Safetymark have specialists who have attained the relevant professional qualifications and experience. Our noise assessment consultants are able to carry out assessments to meet legislative requirements, and can help you find practical solutions to your problems.

Safetymark can undertake:

- ✓ Workplace Noise Assessments;
- ✓ Personal Exposure Assessments; and
- ✓ Noise at Work Training;
- ✓ Environmental assessment (PPG24)
- ✓ Noise Monitoring - Section 60 / 61 Control of Pollution Act 1974
- ✓ Negotiation of planning constraints
- ✓ Advice on noise mitigation

Aviation Ground Safety

Do you need help on how to comply with the HSE's guidance on Aircraft Turnround (HSG209)?

Our consultants have produced turnround plans for airlines, aerodromes and service providers ensuring in all cases that they can be implemented without the provision of additional supervisory staff.

Our focus is always to provide practical and cost effective solutions that meet the individual requirements of our clients.

We can help you by preparing a ground operations safety management system to ensure ramp safety for personnel and aircraft.

No need to start from scratch, come to a company that already has the answers you need.

Access Consultancy and Training (DDA)

The Disability Discrimination Act (1995) (DDA) has placed obligation on business to ensure that services are accessible to able bodied and disabled alike. Equal Access exists to help businesses to deliver accessible services to their customers and realise the benefits this brings. Making your business accessible need not be difficult or expensive - we can show you how. Increasing access to your services makes good business sense. The number of people with disabilities in the UK is over 8 million and set to increase as the percentage of the population over 65 years old increases. Many businesses are now waking up to the opportunities of providing services that are accessible to people with disabilities. Our services include:

- ✓ Accessible Business - Disabled Access Training for Managers
- ✓ Open Shop - Access and disability awareness training for front line staff
- ✓ Business Consultancy - Access Audits and strategies for access
