ONE STOP SAFETY

The Management of Health & Safety at Work Regulations requires all employers to have one or more people to assist them in undertaking the measures they need to take to comply with current health and safety law.

Many clients and major contractors now require their contractors to have an appointed safety advisor as a condition of employment.

Not all businesses however have a need for a full time safety professional and some companies who have appointed a safety advisor may from time to time need specialist advice from an experienced full time safety professional.

To meet this need within the construction industry

Safetymark Consultancy Services provides the One Stop Safety service.

As a specialist construction health and safety company we understand the needs of companies working within the industry. Your personal health and safety advisor will have worked both within construction and as a safety professional and will be appropriately qualified.
